Dear comrade Jerry-

I've read your letter to us a number of times. It is a special drawing together of many of the things you've been teaching us in the course of our coming together - both the unity of purpose and common passions which motivate us, and the respect for the differences which separate us. I think of you all the time. I hope you understand that my own reserve is a quality which I struggle against and no sign of hesitancy in friendship for you.

I'm working hard here, looking to next week and the final waiting for the babe. It's an honor to be a midwife for the "coming of a new day" and a new sister's commitment to a revolutionary birth in the forest.

with deep admiration and love-

Reveremos!

Ramona
