"DEP is not doing anything to promote African Americans within the organization," Shackelford said. "There are some blacks in DEP who have been overlooked for promotions," he said.

"For example, an employee within the organization was in contention, and was told to apply, but they brought in a white person with less experience. As Shirley Gooding, secretary of the Department of Labor and Employment Security, says,, sensitivity and commitment have to come from the top.

"We strongly urge the removal of any agency head who lacks sensitivity and commitment to achieve cultural diversity and management," he said.
