In so far as being your wife. my future in vision for us interacting is solely as mothers of our children, & very close friends and comrades who have experience life passage from the realm of politics to the high reaching the heights of personal dynamics. ~~we used to say to each~~

It is time that we both go on with our lives and face the realities of what it truly was like in so far as you and me acting like man and wife. but more than too often acting in disharmony with each other the latter of the disharmony ~~has left you~~ is reflect in deep unhealed wounds, that ~~from~~ from time to time. the passion that often make the heart reach out/cry out shakle with the words of disappointment and false hope
