

1. Complete application form and return it to the school.
2. Report to the Kaw Area Vocational-Technical School for the pre-admissions test which is given the first Monday of every month, except on holidays. The practical nursing program has two test dates per year.

4. The school's admission committee will review the applications for the individual programs and enrollment will be completed as space is available in the program.
5. Enrollment in the day class at the Kaw Area Vocational-Technical School is open to students who reside in one of the six participating school districts. Other students may enroll in the school according to established priorities, as follows:
 - a. Qualified students who are currently enrolled in a vocational-technical educational program and pursuing a vocational objective.
 - b. High school students from participating districts who must meet entrance requirements of the particular course in which they have applied for admission. Enrollment starts January 15.
 - c. Post-secondary students from participating districts who meet entrance requirements of the particular course in which they have applied for admission (not included in a. above). Enrollment starts April 1.

6. The Kaw Area Vocational-Technical School is part of the state system of area vocational-technical schools and is approved by the State Board of Education. Most courses are approved for veterans. Student selection for courses does not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, or religion in the educational programs or activities.
