

Bismillah

As Salam Aleikum,
Beloved Wife,

Your pregnancy has changed nothing believe that. When you got the idea from I believed what was said I don't see, all I did was say what was going around (it comes from some source). If I repeat something I hear does not mean I believe it. Pops tell me things but I don't go for it. We have been confronted by evil, we won't let it destroy us. Your sister and I had a rap Sunday about that person this was before the lie came, I wanted her opinion on them folks. She ran down this since before it came out. I ask about things and people. Stand firm and know in your heart that my feelings have not changed, except in a positive way. I love you more for being what you are and embracing all these hardships. If I were to desert you or turn my back on your word or feel any less for you, then I would not be a revolutionary Blackman but a nigga who lives by standards other than my own.

See you tomorrow, take care of yourself. Hold your head up and do not look sad in public for our enemies must not know what they are doing to us. Did you give the letter to M.D.?

When will I see my sons again, I miss them.

May Allah protect you.

When you make the call don't forget to ask for what you want.
