CONSUMER PRODUCTS AND SOUTH AFRICA

The following is a partial list of companies and corporations operating in South Africa. The various products marketed by the corporations are not necessarily manufactured in South Africa- although some are. This list is intended only to inform consumers that the purchase of a product, like the purchase of a stock, is not a neutral action. The money spent on certain products goes to corporations which, by their presence in South Africa may not reflect the consumer's ethical standards. We cannot demand investor responsibility of Columbia and other large investors if we cannot, as consumers, show a similar unwillingness to benefit from corporations operating in South Africa. Collectively, we consumers can exert pressure on these companies by not purchasing their products. Write to the manufacturers and tell them why you are no longer buying their product and inform store managers of your boycott on certain goods. It is important that they know so that pressure will be felt. Together, we can have an effect.
