

Comrade Nick,

Yo! What it be? Hope this finds you & the rest of the Righteous Brothers in good health & high fighter spirits. I'm down a.k. Down my best to serve the Brothers here in my (their) camp & down alright in that!

Hodari & Gunnie down a.k. too. We'll be seeing each other again the 13th (Nov.) for sentencing. state pros to begin their shit on the same day.

Heard about them bombings in the city by the Puerto Rican groups of freedom fighters. Right On! From what I dug of the mass media account, it seemed well planned, well coordinated with the conditions & political events, well selected targets & apparently they got away. Heard that Puerto Rican rally at the garden got off pretty nice too. Seems like the groups were relatively unknown & the names are probably (I hope) in a state of confusion. I'm waitin to see what these "radical" papers will have to say in relation to the act.

Gonna submit something to you & the Brothers. It's "points of attention" I drew up recently in an effort to sum up my experience in trying to work among the masses & revolutionary elements, like groups & organizations. Something so many of our Revolutionary People don't do, although they boast about being scientific, Marxist-Leninists & what-not, is set workin policies & sum up the practical experience of that policy in order to form correct methods of work in Revolutionary activity. It's basically toward those in above-ground work & that's because I give alot of consideration to buildin the political power of the masses thru tryin to organize them, gain their sympathy AND support for the political plus the Armed struggle.

If the question is "Why the masses don't respond, positively, tons?" then the answer must lay in our method of reachin & workin among them. We want to be able to sway, not in a "push-bowl" of a select few of the advanced, put in the "ocean" of the masses, as broad an "ocean" as possible!

This is like a continuation of my last scribble in which I was answerin' yo question about my views on what needs to be done - if you copied! That's why I'm kinda skeptical bout really gettin' into it too deep cause I don't know if they surver gonna start pushin' around holdin' my scribbles or what.

One thing that prompted me to draw them "points of attention" was because I hear quite frequently alot of Revolutionary People say they can't reach a person or that they just don't wanta hear it. But I think it in the method we use we tryn to reach an individual - whether they are religious, apolitical or got just a little bit on the cap.

check it out, Kith, & be critical. gonna and here. you Brathers take care, I love you. Hope my Beautiful sisters are o.k. I'm good fighter spirit. I'd like the grapevine to let 'em know I love them. Be Strong.

Break de Chains!
in struggle,
Ashanti (Mike)

P.S. I'll be scribbled from time to time.
